3. Undertake a research agenda to support the monitoring of the impacts of modern treaties.	AANDC has approached academia with the view of supporting academic research on the impacts of CLCAs and SGAs. Any initiative to monitor impacts requires the participation of both government and Aboriginal signatories. We will continue to reach out the Land Claims Agreement Coalition with the view of collaborating on this initiative.	Start Date: already begun Completion: ongoing	Status: (Ongoing) Update/Rationale: As of 20/01/2014: We are arranging a discussion with: Ken Coates, Canada Research Chair in Regional Innovation Johnson-Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy Director International Centre for Northern Governance and Development University of Saskatchewan AES: In progress
4. To improve results-based reporting, coordinate the ongoing monitoring of the effectiveness of the implementation of modern treaties.	Implementation Branch monitors the implementation of obligations, and is currently participating in the Performance Measurement Strategy for the Impacts of CLCAs and SGAs to support AANDC's Performance Measurement Strategy Portfolio Action Plan, which support PAA Program 1.3.	Phase 1 – Amend Current PM Strategy Start Date: already begun Phase 2 – Update PM Strategy for Program 1.3 Start: 2015/16 Completion: 2015/16
